AnCon '09 had a total of 276 People
AnCon 2010's goal is 350+ people

You can help us make that goal!

What we want out of 2010?

We want to increase the number of people participating in AnCon. We want more Staff, more Game Masters and many more Attendees. These are our customers, your customers. We are still working towards our ultimate goal of an annual 500 person local game convention. Many of our exhibitors are returning, some will be new to the show. It is through our partnership that we can make AnCon grow as a place for your business to flourish.

We are increasing our appeal by adding more tournaments, larger visual games and interesting special events. We are moving the Dead Dog party to an earlier time on Sunday and inviting you and attendees to join us before heading home. We want to work more with manufacturers to send representatives for demos and tournaments. We are offering special rates for established game groups and large group registrations. We are working on a family and kid friendly track of events to reach more new game players.

We are pushing our Bounty Hunter Pre-registration Program to encourage people to bring more new people to the show. The Program rewards people $5 cash for getting someone new to pre-register as attendees for the convention. 35 new people were brought to AnCon '09 with this program. We hope to have even more new bounties in 2010.

Event Fees

All standard events are $1.00 designed to reimburse the game master for their registration. Specific event fees are charges attendees pay to participate in scheduled events and tournaments that must cover special costs or requirements. Event fees will be determined by the Event Sponsor and AnCon Management.

Manufacturer Demos

Demo space may be provided in the scheduled events areas by permission of AnCon management with regard to availability of tables relative to event schedule. There is a possibility that scheduled events may occupy nearly all available event space so no demo space can be guaranteed until two weeks before start of AnCon, subject to change by discretion of AnCon management.

Extend your presence from the booth by running games.

Event Sponsorship and Event Prize Support

AnCon 2010 encourages companies to send official representatives to run scheduled events sponsored by the company. Many game manufacturers have qualified or sanctioned event managers who run events at conventions and in retail stores. AnCon 2010 is a perfect opportunity to have these outstanding representatives promote your company and its products by hosting scheduled events.

AnCon is interested in providing prizes for as many game winners as possible. Please contact us regarding support for scheduled events. Marketing and promotional opportunities are available for companies supplying prize materials. All companies who provide prizes for specific games will be listed as co-sponsors for those games on the AnCon web site as well as in the on-site program. Companies providing general prizes, unspecific to scheduled events but used for a general prize pool will be listed in a general co-sponsorship listing online and in the program.

AnCon 2010 Show Sponsors

Special Sponsorship opportunities are provided to interested companies. Our show sponsor for 2009 was Mayfair Games. They became our sponsor through their support in advertising, printing, promotions, prize support and in providing a Special Guest: Larry Roznai. Companies can help AnCon by their level of participation and support. Please contact us on how your company can be a show sponsor. All show sponsors are highlighted in our marketing materials as well as all show publications.

All Show Sponsorship	$200
Exhibitor Party Sponsorship	$50
AnCon Ale House Sponsorship	$50
Dead Dog Party Sponsorship	$50

Sponsorship can be gained through participation in AnCon 2010. We are very interested in new ideas for our show and ways to increase your participation. Contact us with your ideas and we will make them happen.
